

Traineeship opportunities

The University of Parma offers incoming students a wide variety of traineeship opportunities to gain some professional experience in an international environment and to put into practice, in specific workplace settings, the knowledge acquired during their education. Thanks to a three-year university project which aims at promoting international mobility and increasing internship experiences for foreign students, until the end of 2015 students may choose from a broad spectrum of traineeships in many different locations: administrative offices and services, museums, hospital wards, and schools. Whichever area they choose for their traineeship, a supervisor will guide students through the whole period, helping them focus on a specific traineeship project from the first steps to the final evaluation.
