Short Description of the Company / HEI	Inovative architectural practice based in Dubrovnik and Zagreb. Multidisciplinary approach and large number of habitual collaborators of different professional profile ensure our succesfull engagement with all dimensions of architectural and urban design. All projects are informed by a sensitive approach to place, the experiential potential of materials and construction and a concern for the environmental, social and economic aspects of sustainability. The practice is committed to a research-based approach, which is supported by the partners' academic work and their participation in architectural competitions and juries, and aspires to create an architecture that is contemporary and rooted in its context, at all scales.
