About the Program

The program is delivered in collaboration with the University College London, UK, and the University of Kent, UK (separate tracks). Teaching in the program is based on multidisciplinary approach which allows students to examine complex interrelationship of politics and economics in today's globalized world with the focus on Eurasian studies. Students of the program benefit from studying in truly international groups under the supervision of international faculty and experts from academia, business and government institutions.

In 2014 the program offers three study tracks:

- International Relations Track (by HSE)
- Politics & Security Track (delivered under IMESS Consortium in collaboration with the University College of London)
- International Relations Track (delivered in collaboration with the University of Kent)

DEGREES

Master in International Relations (from HSE) and/or
